

Restaurant and Bar

The Resort's restaurant is also called "The Nakamal" in respect of local culture and definition of 'Meeting Place'

Upon entering "The Nakamal", you are struck by the size of the main structure. Built from local timbers with an amazing criss cross of cleverly placed poles and Natangora roofing the atmosphere is tribal, earthy, rustic & rural. Overhead, within the main structure, it is a tribute to the Melanesian culture. Having survived many cyclones in its ten years history, "The Nakamal" is a local icon and talkingpoint for all visitors. It's quite a contrast with the panoramic water-views of Port Vila Bay in the background and the tropical healthy reef right in front of the resort. The absolute waterfront location makes the Nakamal a popular spot also for local resident who enjoy this beautiful location for their sunday lunch.

The Nakamal is a full service restaurant and cocktail bar, James, Ben and Jimmy create cocktails incorporating tropical fresh fruits from the market and those grown in the resort grounds, These include mangoes , coconut, watermelon, limes, paw paw, pineapple and many more.
